

Use case

Unisys Managed Meeting Rooms

Bridging communication gaps among workers

Organizational excellence relies on seamless collaboration, but how do we connect teams spread across different locations? For companies with diverse work models, overcoming this challenge is key to maintaining productivity and driving innovation. Unisys Managed Meeting Rooms is designed to address this need, empowering organizations to enhance collaboration, optimize resources, and ensure consistent communication experiences — regardless of where employees are located.

Scenario

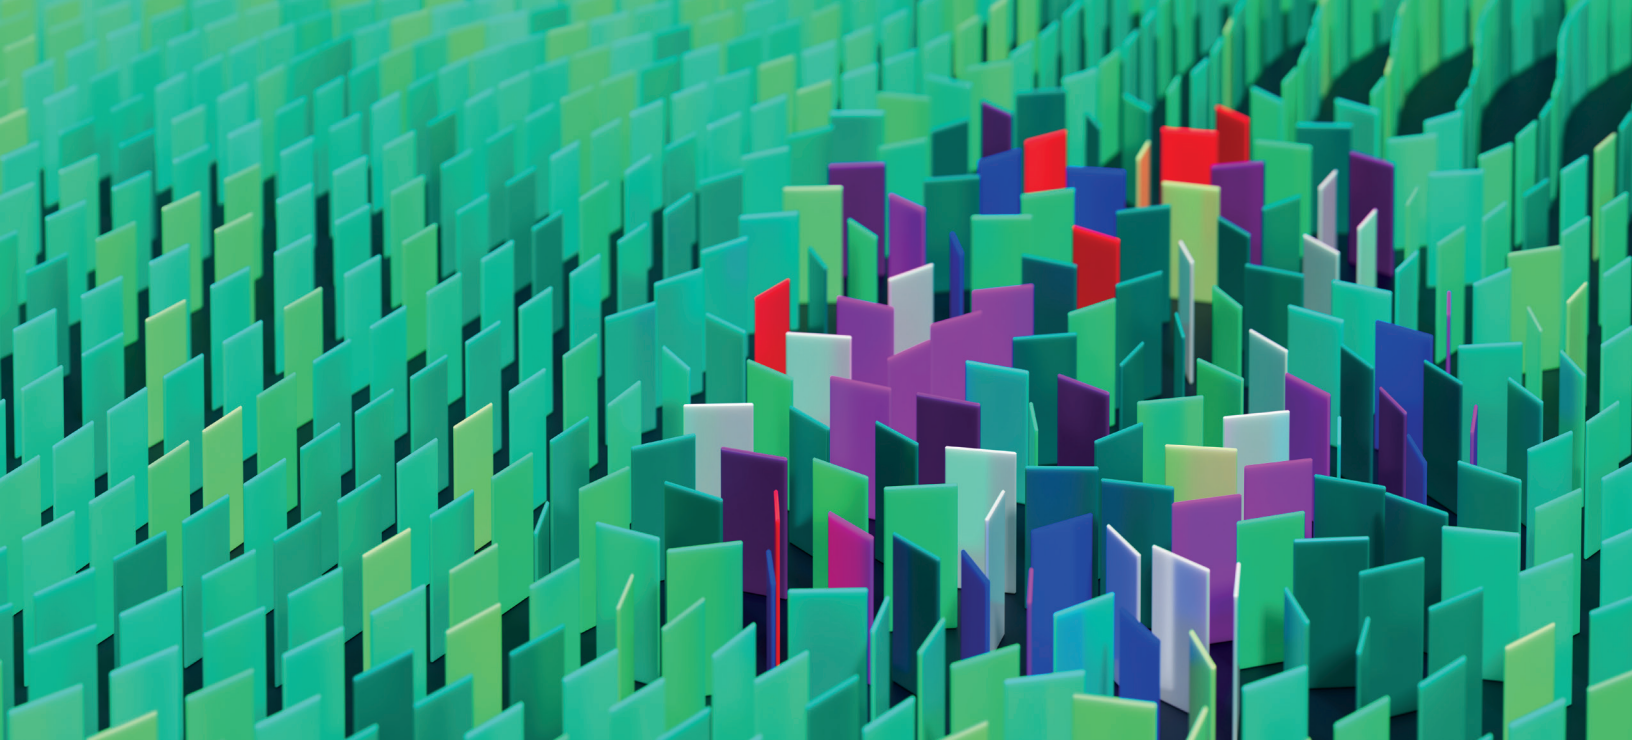

Organization size and scope:
5,000+ employees, global operations

Effective coordination can be complex for skilled teams operating across various environments and work models. Workers such as factory technicians, office-based engineers, knowledge workers, and remote project managers all face unique challenges appropriate to their role.

Objective:
Ease collaboration among on-site, remote, and hybrid workers

Gaps in communication, inefficient resource use, and slow resolution of collaboration issues are obstacles on the path to operational excellence. But what if these challenges were opportunities to leap ahead in productivity, innovation, and market responsiveness?

How Unisys delivers value

Unisys Managed Meeting Rooms provides a comprehensive end-to-end solution to the complexities of seamless communication, offering a unified, efficient, and adaptable collaboration experience.

- Flexible scheduling: Our intuitive interface allows easy booking of rooms across all locations, accommodating various work schedules and preferences.
- Hybrid-friendly setup: High-quality audio-visual capabilities support seamless interaction between in-person and remote participants, ensuring everyone can contribute effectively.
- Virtual training support: Enhanced tools make equipment and safety training sessions more engaging and effective, which is crucial for maintaining standards across dispersed teams.
- Smart space utilization: AI-driven recommendations optimize room usage, ensuring efficient resource allocation based on real-time needs and patterns.
- Proactive monitoring: Continuous system checks prevent technical disruptions, maintaining smooth operations and minimizing downtime.

ROI potential

Implementing Unisys Managed Meeting Rooms can improve meeting experiences and maximize your meeting room ROI:

- Operational efficiency soars through optimized meeting space usage and reduced technical issues.
